We’ve rebranded some of our products. CODEX® is now PhenoCycler™.

A Simple, Flexible Interface for Researchers to Truly Collaborate.

Proxima™ is a sophisticated data and image management system that implements powerful, streamlined tissue biomarker analysis workflows locally. It enables your lab to transition to fully cloud-based workflows when ready.

Data Sources

- Cloud data is mirrored locally for fast access with desktop analysis software
- Anywhere, anytime cloud data access
- Web based whole slide viewer with on-demand spectral unmixing
- User Authentication and Authorization
- Automated data synchronization from scanner to repository to cloud.
- Archival space for completed studies

Proxima is a hybrid cloud system designed to make data access easy anywhere, anytime without changing your current workflows.
